Yeggs Loot Shaw Store for Valuable Haul in Cash and Fancy Clothing Last Night

A few hundred dollars loss to the Shaw's Department store is the result of a robbery staged some time Tuesday night, according to information obtained from the store this morning. It is supposed that professional yeggs from out of town did the work, as every trace left the signs of professionals who have been at the game a long time.

The yeggs are supposed to have picked the lock on the front door and to have spent not less than an hour in the store. The combination of the safe was solved and the safe opened. The money, only currency being taken, was removed from the checks and silver.

By an open window in the rear was found a suitcase in which had been carefully packed men's suits, women's dresses, ivory, silk hose, a stick pin and other pieces of fancy clothing. It is supposed that the robbers were planning to get away with this, but became frightened and left it in the store.

No clue has been found as to the guilty party or parties.

The local church has been without a rector since the promotion several years ago of Rev. Davis to an arch-deaconship.

NORTHEAST C. OF C. PROPOSED BY CHELSEA

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, Oct. 26.—A movement was started at a good roads meeting and chamber of commerce luncheon held in Chelsea recently for the organization of Northeastern Oklahoma chamber of commerce. The purpose of the organization would be the organization of smaller chambers of commerce in every city in this part of the state and the development of eastern Oklahoma.

CITY ASKS SIGN MEN TO MOVE BILLBOARD

A controversy has arisen between the city and the Thomas Cusack poster advertising company as to the erection of a sign board on a vacant lot of East Main street. According to officials, who recently passed an ordinance prohibiting the construction of bill boards, the poster company must set the sign 25 feet from the walk if it is to be within the provision of the ordinance.

FRISCO MAIL CLERK IS SHOT AND LOOT TAKEN

(By the Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Frank B. Adams, mail clerk and guard, was shot and killed by a masked bandit who entered the Perry postoffice early this morning and escaped with a sack of registered mail, according to the police.

The value of the loot has not yet been determined.

Judge J. F. McKeel, who started to Washington, D. C. Tuesday was informed before reaching Holdenville that the case before the Interstate Commerce Commission had been postponed. He returned to Ada Tuesday night.

COTTON CROP FAILURE "BLESSING IN DISGUISE"

MARIETTA, Oct. 25.—A "blessing in disguise," perhaps pretty well disguised—but a blessing, is what Robert F. Waters, county agent of Love county calls the failure of the cotton crop this year. "It's a pretty hard philosophy for some men to believe," he said, "but it was time something drastic happened to make them realize that they had to raise more than one thing. Other people were suffering because the farmer paid more attention to cotton than he did to meat, potatoes and flour; now he is beginning to realize his duty to raise something to live on first."

HIGHWAY MOVE LAUDED HIGHLY BY DELEGATION

Ada Good Roads Boosters Join Cotton Belt Tour To Red River.

ALLEN CAR GOES ALSO New Route Equal Railroad Is Belief of Group on Completing Tour.

OKMULGEE, Oct. 26.—(Special)—Returning to Okmulgee from a tour of the Cotton Belt highway to Dallas, W. W. Jenkins, executive director of the chamber of commerce, yesterday predicted that the new highway, which already is marked from Tulsa to the Red River through Okmulgee, soon will be equivalent to a railroad through this city, so extensive is the use of the road growing.

Mr. Jenkins described the trip as having surpassed the hopes of the highway association officials, and declared that throughout the territory the highway work is being boosted beyond all hopes ever held for the work.

"Everywhere we went, we were accorded the most cordial welcome, and everyone predicted that the Cotton Belt highway in time will become the greatest of trails," Mr. Jenkins said.

Delegation Made Up.

The trip was started here with E. B. Guthrie of Tulsa, representing that city, and J. S. Jackson of Kansas City. The local delegation was made up of W. W. Jenkins, Orlando Swain, city commissioner of public safety, W. H. Croome, secretary of the county election board, and Ben Parkinson.

The delegation, leaving here Wednesday morning, went to Henryetta, where they were received by the chamber of commerce of that city, and were given a warm reception. The Henryetta chamber was unable to send a car or delegate, unfortunately, Mr. Jenkins said. The next stop was at Tulsa where they visited with chamber of commerce officials and discussed the possibilities of the new highway. The delegation arrived in Wetumka for dinner, and were treated by the chamber officials and business men of that city. Another car was added to the touring party at Wetumka, carrying J. E. Jarrett, H. S. Mayfield, W. H. Burks and Buster Butler.

Car From Allen.

Another car was added at Allen, Okla., where Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weidman joined the delegation.

The party arrived at Ada for supper on the first night, and was given a reception there. They were treated to dinner, and the Ada people had previously provided for their lodging for the night. A delegation from that city comprised of H. B. Roach, Newton Walker and Robert Adams, joined the party.

Kingston put in a car with B. E. Sudberry, E. G. Smith and J. C. Hudders as delegates.

At Woodville, the last city this side of the Red river, another car was added with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Crane, W. Y. Wiley, J. W. Johnson, and R. A. Owen as delegates. The party crossed over to Sherman for dinner where they also were given a reception by chamber of commerce officials. The party drove into Dallas at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of the second day.

Produces Results.

"The newly marked highway is beginning to produce as noticeable results as a new railroad through a community. It taps the richest territory in Oklahoma and the south-west going through the richest oil, coal and cotton fields anywhere in this section. One notable incident came to my attention when we crossed the Red river. The toll bridge was thrown open to us, and the keeper there said that tolls on the bridge had increased forty percent since the new highway was marked."

"On our trip, I noticed that Hughes county has the worst of

DOG IS LEGALLY DEAD: THREE PAYING TAXES

MIAMI, Okla., Oct. 26.—"Spot" a hound dog belonging originally to Michael Powers, a farmer near here, legally is dead. But also, he is alive, and the property of Powers, G. W. Potter, a Miami grocer, and Trig Stein, also a Miami man, they each aver.

Stein, Potter and Powers all have paid his taxes, and Potter has saved him from the executioner.

When "Spot" was found on the streets of Miami, a police officer collared him, charging him with vagrancy and started with him on the way to the lockup. Potter interfered and paid the tax, providing a home for the dog. He later gave him to Stein, who also paid taxes for him, and treated him as one of the family. Powers, who declares in a petition filed for possession, that he loves the dog as his own, also paid taxes in the hope that the prodigal would return.

The contention of Potter and Stein is that Spot legally is dead, and that being resurrected by Potter was given new life, and that Powers has no claim upon him whatever.

KAW CITY MAN IS FOUND AFTER SIX MONTHS ABSENCE

(By the Associated Press)

KAW CITY, Oct. 26.—When Henry Brown was 55 years old, he married a second wife, and left his home in South Dakota for a honeymoon at Galveston, Texas. He and his bride were washed away in the big flood and he lay for six months unconscious in Texas hospitals, his children unable to locate him.

Recovering, he came to Kaw City, where he lost his fortune, said to have been about $100,000, and allowed his sons to believe him dead.

Twenty-eight years later, one son, Arthur, of Wichita, Kan., another, Walter, of South Dakota, and Henry, the inventor of the Brown railway system, found him on a small ranch near here. After he had recognized them, he persuaded them to explain how they located him.

Eight years ago, he said, he told Dr. and Mrs. George Martin of Newkirk, Okla., who had recognized him, that he did not want his sons to know of his ill-fortunes. Mrs. Martin met Walter two years ago in South Dakota, it was explained, and when he told her of his father's death or disappearance nearly thirty years ago, she confessed that she knew he was alive.

A search was started which ended here last week in the finding of the boys' father. He accompanied them to Wichita, where he will reside for several months, with Arthur Brown.

The consul's injuries, said the advices, were not believed to be of a serious nature, consisting only of two wounds in the left arm.

LEGALITY MADE ISSUE OF PROBE IN RAIL STRIKE

U. S. Labor Board Will See If Walkout of 400,000 Men Is Lawful.

CHIEFS AT MEETING Assembly Today Rated One of Biggest Labor Parleys Held in Chicago.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The United States railroad labor board hearing to determine whether the big four brotherhoods and the switchmen's union have violated or are about to violate the wage cut decision of July 1, got under way today a public airing of the inner politics of the railroad unions which led to the taking of a separate strike ballot by the trainmen.

W. G. Lee, called to the stand by Ben W. Hooper, "prosecuting attorney" for the board, declared the strike ballot of the other four organizations violated his understanding of what the transportation act provided. Lee said he withdrew from the joint meeting when the other unions prepared a statement to accompany the ballot in which they referred to the proposed wage reduction cut and rule revisions not yet decided by the board, as among the questions at issue.

Lee told the board he understood the July 1 cut was the only question on which a strike could legally be called.

"I took the position," Lee said, "that for once in my life at least, I wanted to tell the truth to my men about the facts as I saw them."

Four Million Laid.

Lee read into the record a circulated letter sent to his men while they were voting on the strike, in which he pointed out that wages must come down and that 4,000,000 unemployed men were seeking jobs.

Mr. Lee declared the differences between himself and the other unions arose when he insisted on a "clean cut statement," pointing out there was no possibility of reopening negotiations with the roads, using the strike vote as a club, he cause the labor board and not the roads had decided the wage cut. Taking of testimony to the brotherhood chiefs followed more than an hour of wrangling over the roll call. Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of locomotive engineers, objected to the roll call of his general chairman, and when the board finally undertook to call their names it was discovered the chairman had obeyed Stone's order and ignored that of the board to attend the hearing.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The United States railroad labor board today initiated an official government inquiry into the national rail crisis, to determine normally whether the threatened walkout of some 400,000 train service men, scheduled to begin Sunday morning, constituted a violation of the board's decision or of the terms of the transportation act.

Chiefs of the conductors, engineers, trainmen, switchmen and firemen, together with the five general chairmen of each labor organization, appeared to answer a summons under two sections of the transportation act. Railroad executives from all of the principal roads were also present as the result of a request by the board.

The hearing was slow in getting under way. The union men were given the choice seats, with the 150 railroad executives seated at the rear.

It was one of the strongest gatherings ever assembled at a labor conference in Chicago. Numbers of women were scattered through the hall. Among the early arrivals were 50 girl college students.

In citing the labor group to appear, Chairman R. M. Barton said in his opening statement that the board was "principally moved by a threatened interruption to commerce."

Board Calls Meeting. Chairman Barton made it plain that the inquiry was being conducted entirely on the initiative of the board, neither the railroads nor their employees about to strike being concerned in bringing up the case.

"The inquiry," said the chairman (Continued on Page Three)

W. P. Hopkins, Pioneer, Is Found Dying In Creek Bed Near Ada Early Wednesday

After slashing his wife's throat with a razor while she slept, killing her instantly, and making an attack on his own son, Furman, 16, and inflicting a slash on his throat, W. P. Hopkins, a farmer living nine miles southwest of Ada, killed himself with another razor early this morning when tracked by officers to a creek near the farmhouse.

It is believed by members of the sheriff's force that Hopkins, who was held to have been insane, was attempting to murder his entire family including three other children who fled in panic to the house of a neighbor who notified officers of the murder. Hopkins, it is said, has twice been in asylums for the insane and was held by neighbors to have been dangerous.

Hopkins was a pioneer farmer of Pontotoc county, having lived here for almost 30 years. He was about 62 years old.

RACE PARTNERS HARDING'S PLAN

President Says Mixing of Races Never Will Be Possible.

(By the Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 26.—The right of the American negro to broader political, economical and educational advantages, based on a race pride but never an aspiration for social equality, was championed by President Harding today in a plain worded enunciation of his views of the whole American race problem.

These are some of the principles on which he appealed to the nation to lay aside old prejudices and old antagonisms "and give support to a constructive policy of racial relationship."

"Politics and economics—there need be no occasion for great and racial difference, problems on both sides shall be recognized of absolute divergence in this question of social and racial equality."

"I would say let the black man vote when he is fit to vote; prohibit the white man from voting when he is unfit to vote."

"I wish that both the tradition of a solidly democratic south and the tradition of a solid republican black race might be broken up. I would insist upon equal educational opportunities for both."

"Men of both races may well stand uncompromisingly against every suggestion of social equality. This is not a question of social equality, but a question of recognizing a fundamental, eternal, inescapable difference."

"Racial amalgamation there cannot be. Partnerships of the races in developing the high esteem of old humanity there must be if humanity is to achieve the end which have been set for it."

The president's message, which brought him from Washington on his extended trip into the south, the first since his inauguration, was delivered at a semi-centennial celebration of the foundation of the city of Birmingham. It was devoted almost exclusively to the race question, although Mr. Harding also took occasion to praise the south for its industrial recovery and to renew his faith in the world leadership of a re-united nation.

Burn Tree Girdler.

BARTLESVILLE, Oct. 26.—All branches of trees infested with the trig girdler, an insect which rapidly is depopulating Bartlesville's private parks of their foliage, should be burned, according to the county agent of Washington county, who says this is the only effective means of routing the pest.

"If each neighborhood makes an especial effort to cut these limbs and branches from the trees and burn them, we will be able to control the damage," he said.

POULTRY RAISERS TO HOLD FIRST MEETING

All members of the Pontotoc County Poultry association have been called to meet tonight at 7:30 in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of discussing plans for the annual poultry show to be held the first week in January. Important business will come up this evening, according to J. F. Weldon, president, and a full attendance of members is urgently requested.

The swallow's mouth, in proportion to its size, is larger than that of any other bird.

Family Had Retired.

The family had retired but all the children were awakened by sounds of the attack.

Furman Hopkins, oldest of the four children, after attempting to stop the attack of his father on Mrs. Hopkins and receiving a gash in his own throat, had taken his two little sisters and small brother and retreated from the house.

When officers reached the scene the house was still and the search for the insane father started. When daylight came, Sheriff Duncan and Deputy Chapman tracked Hopkins to the creek where he was found in the last throes of death, his own throat cut. Officers said they were confident he had watched their approach and killed himself when his capture became certain. He was in his night clothes and apparently had spent the night watching the house. Hopkins was unconscious when he was found and died only a few minutes later in his own house where he was carried by the officers.

Wrestles With Father.

Furman Hopkins was only slightly injured in his heroic attempt to defend his mother, officers said, and is expected to recover rapidly. A doctor was rushed from Ada, in company with the officers, and dressed the boy's cuts.

Three razors were in the Hopkins house, it is said, and the one used to kill Mrs. Hopkins had its handle broken when it was found. This caused the man to abandon it and get another weapon to end his own life when he was discovered, according to the theory held by Sheriff Duncan. The third razor was not used.

Neighbors who have known Hopkins for years said today that although they had avoided him somewhat recently, believing him to be dangerous, he had not made any open attacks on his family before. One farmer who lived near the Hopkins place said today the dead man had shown undeniable signs of insanity at various times and was carefully watched by his wife and children.

Hopkins is said to have bought the place on which the family lived only recently and was paying it out. Hopkins' first wife was the mother of Mrs. Bob Duncan of this city. She died 20 years ago.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins have not been announced.

WYANDOTTE ALMOST RUINED BY FLAMES

(By the Associated Press)

MIAMI, Oct. 26.—The town of Wyandotte, one of the oldest in Oklahoma county, was nearly wiped out last night when fire of unknown origin consumed ten business buildings, a church, a hotel and a number of smaller structures. The total loss, is estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000. The fire raged from 11 o'clock last night until three this morning.

AUTO DRIVERS HELD FOR DEATH OF GIRL

ARDMORE, Oct. 28.—Oscar Van No and Wesley Johnson, charged jointly with the murder of Josephine and Lola Wilson as the result of an automobile accident which occurred here on the streets October 14, were bound over to district court at the continuation of preliminary hearings held this morning before County Judge M. F. Minfey. Both were released on $10,000 bond.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GUARD YOUR THOUGHTS:—Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. —Philippians 4:8.

WHO WANTS INCREASED ACREAGE?

The Industrial Digest, a new publication devoted to a resume of the chief contents of the leading trade journals of thirty industries, and which is ably edited, gleams from the publications of the fertilizer industry that there is an expectation that the cotton acreage in the South will be greatly increased next year.

"The recovery of the price of cotton," it says, "should result in an increase in the acreage of next year's crop. Consequently the market for mixed fertilizer, which comprises 80 percent of the fertilizer used, will undoubtedly be much better during the early part of 1922 than it was in 1921. Farmers will be encouraged and will be disposed to fertilize their crops more efficiently."

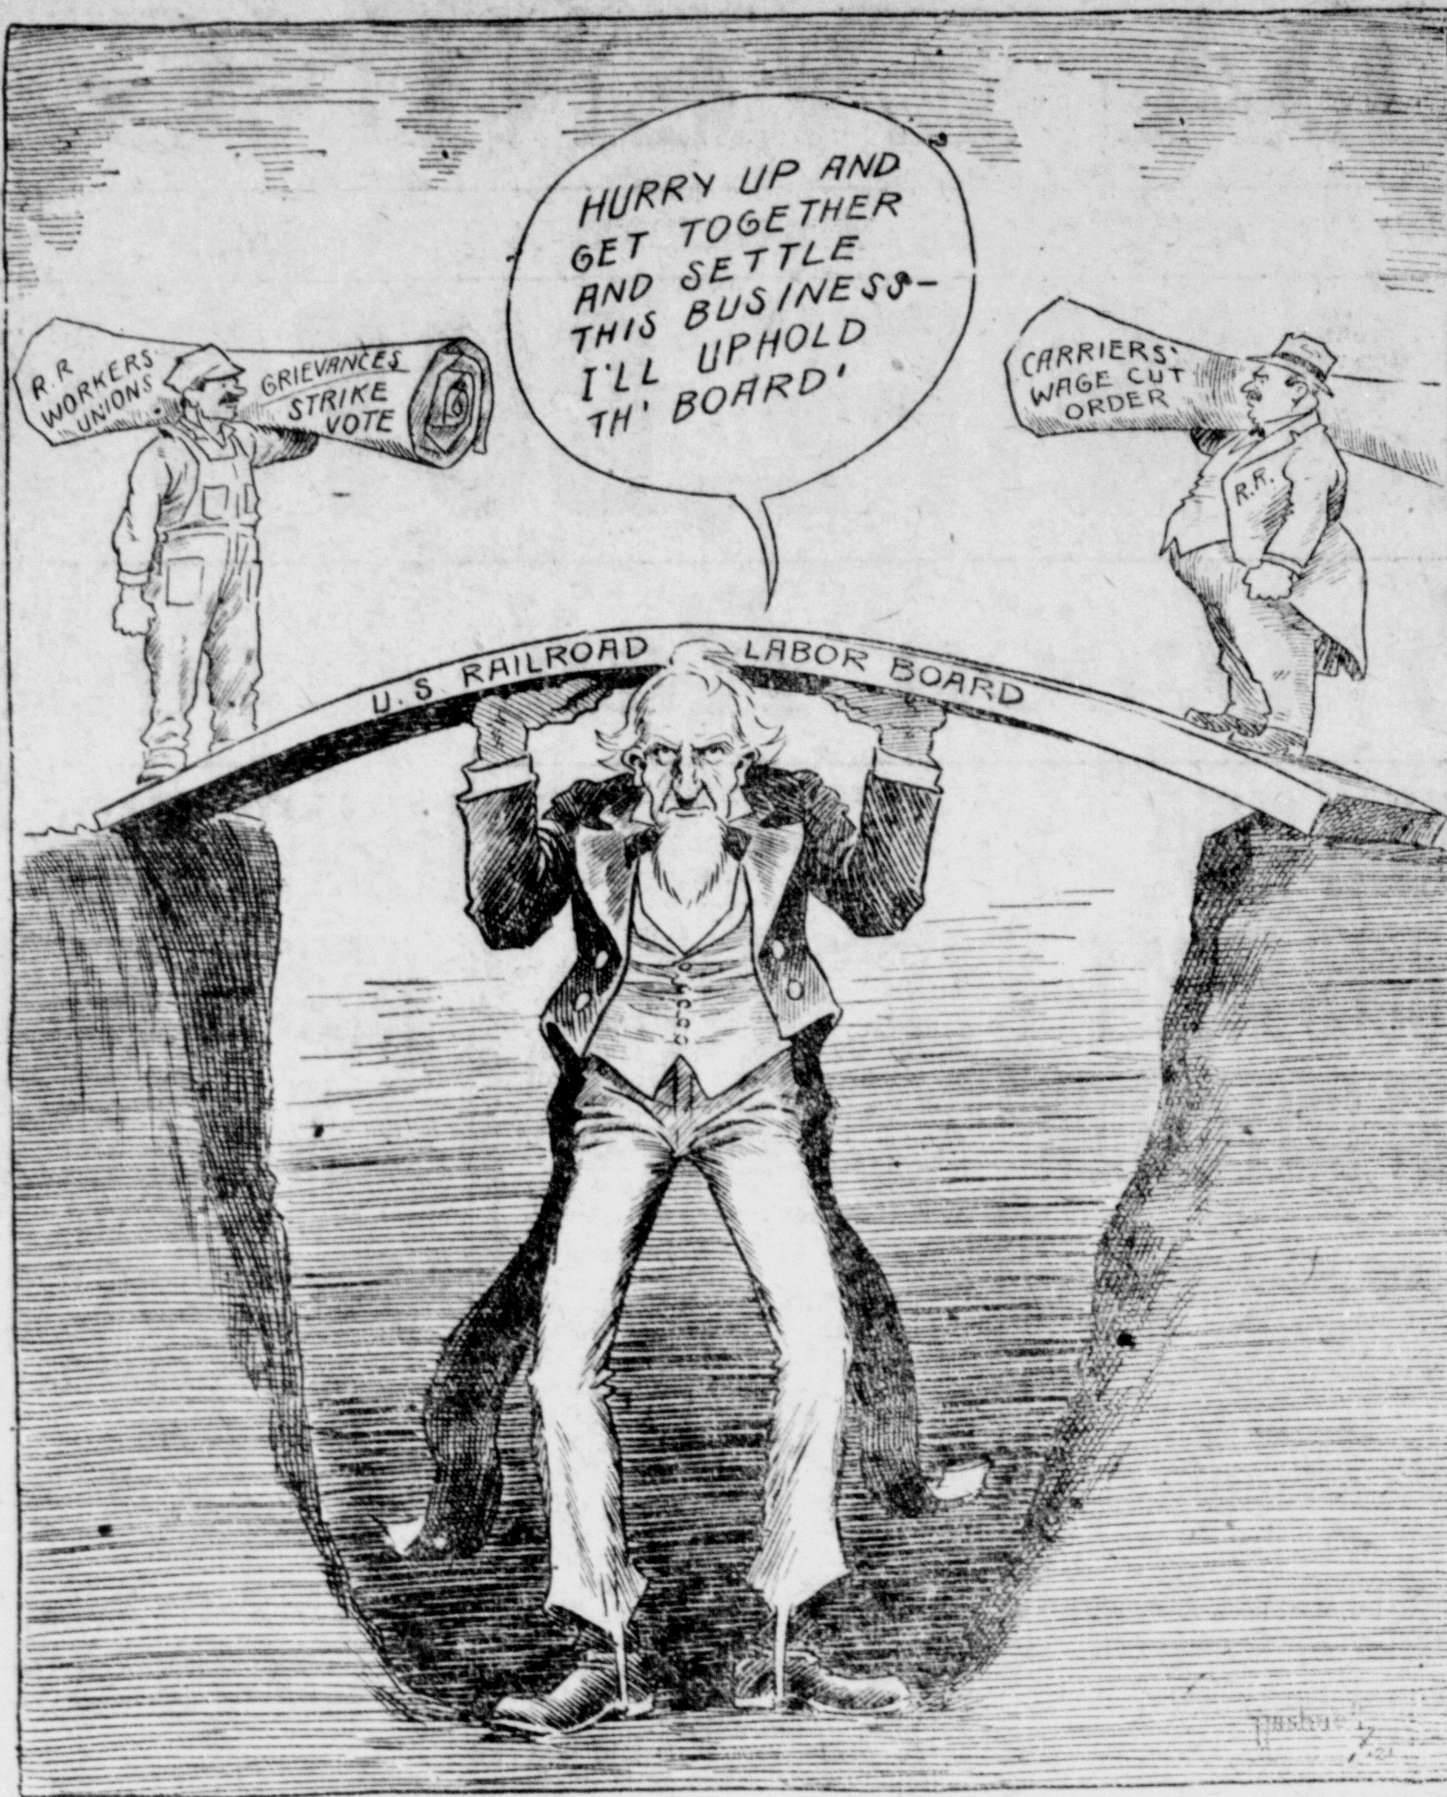

Now we are not concerned with the outlook for the fertilizer industry. We like to see all industries prosper. And while it might be remarked in passing that the fertilizer manufacturers should be quite as concerned about the ability of the farmer to pay for what he buys as about the amount he sells him, that is beside our purpose here. What strikes us is the assurance with which it is assumed that the cotton acreage will be increased next year. The Industrial Digest is simply interpreting the opinion of the fertilizer trade as reflected in fertilizer publications. The latter merely seek to interpret conditions as they see them in the light of experience. They take it for granted that there will be an increase in acreage because "farmers will be encouraged and will be disposed to fertilize their crops more efficiently."

That is a perfectly natural deduction in the light of past experience. And there is real danger that the farmers of the South will "go hog wild on cotton" next season. At a conference held several weeks ago, at which representatives of all of the leading agricultural, financial and commercial organizations of the state were present, it was decided to launch a movement to the end that safe farming again be the program in Texas next season. A similar movement will be launched in each of the other cotton producing states. These leaders have surveyed the situation and have come deliberately to the conclusion that the world cannot buy a big cotton crop next year and that it would be suicide to abandon or curtail the production of other products which are needed in the farm home itself, in the domestic market and abroad, in order to produce more cotton than the world can buy. If an increase in the consumption of mixed fertilizer, therefore, must depend upon an increase of cotton acreage, it is not desirable from the standpoint of the economic interests of the South, or even of the general economic interests of the country, that there shall be an increase in the consumption of mixed fertilizer. Too great a price would be paid for the rehabilitation of the fertilizer industry.

We don't use much fertilizer in Texas, but we are primarily interested in the extent of cotton acreage. We have learned from experience that the labor and money and land that is applied to the production of more cotton than the world can buy is worse than wasted. We have learned that the wise thing to do, the safe and sane thing, is to apply that labor and money and land to the production of other things—things which we need ourselves and which the world needs more than it needs surplus cotton that it cannot buy. But in this, as in other matters, there are interests that run counter to our own interests and to the general interests. The fertilizer manufacturer is a case in point. One can hardly blame him; nor anyone else whose interests lie in that direction, for encouraging the farmer to plant a big acreage of cotton next season. It is to be feared that a lot of farmers will be inclined to feel thus "encouraged" without much urging. But it is equally clear that there will be those who will be interested in a propaganda for increased acreage. It is this circumstance which will make it all the more necessary to conduct an intensive campaign for safe farming. Whatever recovery there has been is due entirely to the fact that the farmer adopted a safe program during the past year. The effect of the latest ginning report tends to show that just a little larger crop of cotton would have meant disaster. Everything must be done between now and planting to prevent that disaster yet coming upon us. We are still far from being entirely out of the woods.—Star-Telegram.

Poor Jackson Barnett, the millionaire Indian, is to be pitied. The department insists that he may have but a beggarly thousands dollars a month for spending money. It is tough to be poor. Thing about living on a thousand dollars a month. There are single men without families who spend as much as one-tenth this much

UNCLE SAM STEPS INTO THE BREACH

Amusements Versus Achievements

(Denton Record-Chronicle)

We are not of those who believe the nation is decadent or headed for the demolition bowwows; to the contrary, we believe the world, with lapses now and then, steadily is getting to be a better place to live in. But when we discern the difference in rewards of different classes, we can't help believing that in some of these things there should be a change if this country is to continue to go forward.

The spectacle of a custard-pie comedian, for instance, getting in material reward a dozen times as much as the president of the United States, for example, is calculated to disgust those of us who believe that the rewards of men in places of exalted dignity and grave responsibilities should exceed those which we give to them whose whose contributions to the real advancement of the world are infinitesimal if at all. The comedian amuses only to the desire for amusement and, since amusement is a desideratum, he is entitled to a reasonable compensation for what he does on the principle that the laborer is worthy of his hire. But, under any condition, his reward should be proportionate to his worth and not wholly disproportionate, as it is under conditions as they are.

Baseball is a good game; it also serves to interest and amuse a considerable part of the populace. But when one sees baseball players, even though they be at the "top of the heap," so to speak, drawing down $5,000 for seven days' work on top of salaries that range all the way from $10,000 to $100,000 for the six months' season; and on the other hand, college professors, ministers, lawyers, business men and other citizens whose efforts really amount to something in the betterment and advancement of the world drawing less for a year's work than a professional baseball player gets for a week's, it not only is preposterous, but in the eye of many gives the wrong perspective in the material rewards of those who achieve and those who merely amuse.

And if it is urged that those "at the top" in any vocation are they who get the big rewards, one may truthfully answer that, even under that condition, the $100,000 a year that Babe Ruth gets for his batting prowess is disproportionate to the $10,000 or $25,000 that represents the zenith of university presidents' stipends in the whole United States; and that the tutelage and direction of 3,000, 4,000, 10,000 university students, who in time to come will be the directing influences of their communities, is vastly more important in the way for future generations—these are satisfactions that are tremendously more gratifying toward the end of one's life than the mere ability to sell at an exorbitant price one's physical pulchritude, animal activity and strength or ability temporarily to create a niche in the world's eye through powers of amusement. But the point is that there should not be the existing disparity in financial remuneration of the men who do and those who merely amuse, because the young man is prone to consider the immediate achieving of personal desires possible through money rather than in the reward of future philosophical gratification through the achievement of things worth while, but ill paid.

AL JENNINGS TELLS OF FLEEING JUSTICE

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 26.—Al Jennings, former Oklahoma outlaw, now engaged in the motion picture business, who a few years ago was candidate for governor of this state, has written a new book, entitled "Through the Shadows With O. Henry," a resume of his travels with the celebrated author while both were fugitives from justice.

The book deals with the experiences of Jennings and "Bill" Porter, the real name of O. Henry, while they were scouting. Porter at that time was charged with embezzlement and Jennings was wanted for robbery.

roads. They are working them, however, and expect great developments in that line now. Next for bad roads comes Murray county but the highways are being improved there. It is signal to note a statement by Mr. Jackson of Kansas City who marked the trail first, that since the day he traveled over the route and blazed the Cotton Belt highway, the roads throughout the course have been improved 100 percent.

"Of all the counties through which we traveled, I believe Pontotoc county has done more road work than any other. They are concentrating their efforts, and have laid a fine road along the line of the highway."

"It was a wonderful trip and has done this entire community a great deal of good, both by way of advertising Oklahoma and of bettering the Cotton Belt highway, which means improvement here," Mr. Jenkins said.

FORDS RUN 34 MILES ON GALLON GASOLINE

Start Easy in Coldest Weather—Other Cars Show Proportionate Saving.

A new carburetor which cuts down gasoline consumption of any motor and reduces gasoline bills from one-third to one-half is the proud achievement of the Air-Friction Carburetor Co. 106 Madison St. Dayton, Ohio. This remarkable invention not only increases the power of motors from 30 to 50 percent, but enables every one to run slow on high gear. It also makes it easy to start a Ford or any other car in the coldest weather. You can use the very cheapest grade of gasoline or half gasoline and half kerosene and still get more power and more mileage than you now get from the highest test gasoline. All Ford owners can get as high as 34 miles to a gallon of gasoline. So sure are the manufacturers of the immense saving their new carburetor will make that they offer to send it on 30 days trial to every car owner. As it can be put on or taken off in a few minutes by anyone all readers of this paper who want to try it should send their name, address and make of car to the manufacturers at once. They also want local agents, to whom they offer exceptionally large profits. Write them today. (Adv.)

Settle Your Fines Or Go To Jail Now Warning of Mayor

If you owe the city a debt for back fines, you will get an opportunity to pay up pronto, according to the way things looked at police headquarters today. Since it started yesterday, the attempt of Mayor Kitchens to clean the books of police court, is making good progress and he expects to have the many fines either paid, or the ones owing them jailed. A large number of the debts have been put in the hands of the police, and those owing will be visited in the course of a few days, it was said.

The remainder of the accounts on the police books will be put in the hands of the police to collect this week, it is understood. This is said to be a forerunner to a vice crusade to be launched against law violators of the city in preparation for the coming winter. Some city hall officials expressed the opinion that a crusade of this nature would be a great help in keeping down crime during the winter.

Wrestler Returns To Make Ada Home As Injuries Mend

Jack Reese, former middleweight wrestling champion of the world, arrived in Ada today to make his home here for the winter. Reese was injured recently in an automobile accident near Chanute, Kas., when the car he was driving turned over. Three of his ribs were broken and a knee was fractured. While convalescing from the injuries, Reese and Rev. E. A. Blackman, known as the "fighting parson," refereed a series of athletic contests at Chanute.

Reese wrestled at an American Legion benefit exhibition at Van Buren only a short time ago, winning a victory in only a few minutes. He says in case his injuries mend rapidly he will undertake to schedule a wrestling bout here some time this winter for the benefit of some local organization while making his home in Ada. He wrestled here last winter, winning his match from Joe Thomas after an hour's go.

Suspended Sheriff Facing Charge Now Of Making Whiskey

OKMULGEE, Oct. 26.—Lon Kuhn, suspended sheriff of Okmulgee county awaiting his third trial on charges of misconduct in office, was arrested this morning by U. S. Sheriff Kuhn was arraigned before Commissioner Lamb, and asked for a hearing which was fixed November 1. He was released under a bond of $100. Kuhn's arrest followed an investigation by District Attorney Lee of charges that he had been associating with George Kirkham in operating a still captured last August.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IN THE ZOO.

"Not only," said the Buffalo Leader, "are there real buffaloes in this zoo, but in this park there are statues of buffaloes."

"Statues are made to look like real people who have been famous, and so when they have statues of buffaloes it means that buffaloes have been famous."

"They have these statues near our part of the park, too."

"They have statues of us," said the Lion.

"Some of them are outside of our building," said the Lioness.

"There are at least two there," added the Lion. "Roar, roar, there are at least two."

"How many animals there are in the park," said the Rocky Mountain Sheep. "Yes, this is a big zoo park, a very big zoo park. And it is so beautiful, too."

"There are members of the Zebra family and of the different Deer families here, and some of the Japanese Deer family. Old Mr. Hippo and his brother is here."

"There are two fine big Bactrian Camels here. They are proud, indeed, of their two humps. Each one has two humps. And they say that is the way of their family."

"There are Mute Swans and Trumpeters, and they have a beautiful time swimming about among the leaves in the water. The leaves are beginning to fall, you see," ended the Rocky Mountain Sheep.

"I see," said his mate. "The leaves are beginning to fall because it is fall," she added. "That's a joke."

"Oh, very well," said his mate. "I'll think up a better joke next time. What other animals are here in this park zoo?"

"There are many turtles and crocodiles, giraffes and oh, so many, many buffaloes."

"There are plants and trees, too, of interest in the park."

"I heard some people in the zoo talk of a sight-seeing trip they had taken and they had gone out into the country to see some of the wonderful old sights about. And they had seen chickens and hens wherever they had gone."

"There is the Orang-Utan in the zoo who is a great favorite. The children love him. He came from Borneo, which is many, many miles away, across an ocean or so, and all that sort of thing."

"What do you mean by 'all that sort of thing'?" asked his mate. "Do tell me."

"I don't know much about geography," said the Rocky Mountain Sheep, "except where I came from, and so I end off my sentence like that, with just a wave of the foot, to pass off what I don't know."

"I see," said his mate. "But you seem to know a lot about the creatures here in the zoo."

"Yes," said the Rocky Mountain Sheep, "and I listen to what is being said."

"A Wave of the Foot."

ing said. One can become very wise, I've heard, by paying attention."

"Do you want to become very wise?" asked his mate.

"Oh, I might as well," said the Rocky Mountain Sheep, "as long as I don't have to pay anything extra for it."

"But you don't have to pay for anything," his mate said, "so why do you speak of something which you don't have to pay anything extra for?"

"Just a way I have of talking," said the Rocky Mountain Sheep.

"I will tell you more that I've heard about the Orang-Utan. He used to live in a nest-like platform in a tree where he could rest and sleep and enjoy life."

"He used to live on fruit, mainly, and maybe he still does, for all I know. I've never been in the monkey house, though I've heard of the bananas he has eaten and of how he has teased some of the children who've come to visit him by throwing the skins of the bananas at them!"

"That's a real joke, now, Mrs. Rocky Mountain Sheep."

"He used to live with his family over there, and other families used to live in the tree tops, too. Though sometimes an Orang-Utan is quite happy to be alone."

"You've certainly told me a lot," said Mrs. Rocky Mountain Sheep. "You must certainly have given me a great deal of information. And though I may never use my knowledge it is pleasant to feel that I have it tucked away in my Rocky Mountain Sheep head!"

man's statement, "is based on two provisions of the transportation act. One section, No. 123 of the act, which provides that when the board has reason to believe a decision by the board as being violated by any carrier or employees or subordinate officials or organizations thereof, it may on its motion after due notice, hear from all persons directly interested in such violation, determine whether in its opinion such violation has occurred, and make public its decision in such a manner as it may determine."

"The other provisions of section 307 is the emergency provision which authorizes the board to act when a dispute is frankly substantial to an interruption of commerce."

"The merits of a wage reduction decision in opposition to which the employees are threatening to strike, or any decisions of the board are not at this time in question and no decision in regard thereto will be in order. The question is simply: has there been a violation or is one threatened?"

NORMAL PLAYERS TO MEET EDMOND IN GOOD SPIRIT

Undaunted that they have been handed a mean defeat by every team they have gone up against this season except one, Coach Thompson's East Central football men will go on the local football field to try their hand against eleven from the Edmond teacher's college Saturday afternoon. The game promises to be a hard one, stubbornly contested, as the Normal boys have the experience of meeting some good men this season and will put their best into the game. The Edmond team will be perhaps the last hard team the locals will have to battle this season.

This week is one of accurate training for the boys. They have been hardened to the worst knocks strong teams can give and need more speed and accuracy to hold against the heavy line backs of opposing teams. Coach Thompson hopes to have the team in a condition to make a better showing than it has yet made. The three hard defeats handed the boys have not been discouraging, he said.

The teachers from Edmond have always given Ada a hard game. This year is expected to be no exception.

LEADERS AIDED IN ARMING MEN MINER CHARGES

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Officials of miners unions in the district of the West Virginia coal fields were charged today by A. E. Hester, a former union organizer, with having aided their men by supplying arms to the miners in the recent march on Logan county, and with having encouraged the march.

Called as a witness before the senate investigating committee by the operators, Hester testified he handled between $3,000 and $4,000 in miners strike relief "scrip" which, he said, he turned over to the union miners for the purchase of arms. He also told the committee he knew of a standing order with a hardware company at Williamsport, West Virginia, for the delivery of 30 rifles a week "for a long time." The guns he said, were being turned over to the miners.

Fight Poverty at Kitchen Door New Motto of Charity

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 26.—The best way to fight poverty is to stage the fight by way of the kitchen door, in the opinion of Mrs. Winnifred Brown, head of the United Charities of Muskogee. Mrs. Brown declares that once the unfortunate family is shown how to purchase and prepare food on an economical basis, and to keep the home in sanitary condition, the question of charity ceases to be a problem.

Toward this end, all the charity assistants in Muskogee have been instructed to first investigate the kitchen of a family requiring aid.

GIRL "BO" TOOK CLOTHES TO HELP FINISH TRIP

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, Oct. 26.—Juanita Logan, 16, of Monett, Mo., wanted to see her sister at Ponca City, Okla., and deciding nothing would stand in her way, she took a shirt and some overalls from a clothesline in Atton, Okla., after her travel money had given out. She then attempted to ride a freight train the remainder of the distance, and got along very well until she reached Dawson, where she was rescued by Salvation Army authorities here.

At Dawson, some men saw her, recognized her as being a girl and told the train officials. They gave her money to continue to Tulsa, where police brought her to the Salvation Army. This organization paid her fare to Ponca City, where her sister met her. Their parents are dead.

"It's never again for me," Juanita said. "I like the farm a lot better than the city atmosphere anyhow. And I nearly froze to death riding that freight train."

Day of 'Hermit' Nations is Past Woman Church Leader Tells Young People in Urging More Activity

(By the Associated Press)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 26.—The present hour presents to the young people of America an opportunity of unusual significance—of significance, first, to their own lives, in its opportunity for self-development and self-expression; second, in relation to community, national and world problems. Mrs. Daniel Stecker of Gary, Ind., told the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church here today.

"The first demand is for fuller knowledge and clear thinking in order to understand the present world conditions and their own relations to them," Mrs. Stecker said. "The second is for resolute decision, implying recognition and assumption of obligation for answering the call for world service—world service, because the day of 'hermit' nations is past, and because for good or ill, the United States has been thrust into economic, social, moral and religious leadership."

"The third demand is for unselfish devotion—the losing of selfish interests and purposes in the larger life of the community, nation and world."

Residence Small Factor.
The world-citizen may reside anywhere—in a New England village, a rural community, a western plain, the slums of the city or its finest street. He may work in field or factory, or office, or store, or school—this does not matter. It is his mental and spiritual contact that make him a world-citizen. The field of his world-service may lie just in front of his open door. This is true for most of us. The commission to leave houses and lands, father and mother and to go, comes to but relatively a small number. But for him to whom it does come, there is no place for questioning or delay. The King of Kings, has requisitioned his services, and he refuses at the peril of his soul. Each of us has an inner conviction as to where his duty lies and if we seek with sincere and open minds to find the place of highest usefulness we shall surely find it.

"The fourth demand is for heroic service. The 'High Commission' is for whatever needs to be done, whether hard or easy, whether near or far, whether obscure or public. It is not for those who seek ease or remuneration, or popularity or fame. It is not for those who are carried away by momentary emotion or sentiment. It is for those high souls who look the facts square in the face, who think in terms of real values, count the cost of discipleship of Him who said, 'If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me,' and who then deliberately dedicate their lives to the following of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the bringing in of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth."

"The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church sets before you an open door for such service in the home land; of greater knowledge of the conditions which must be changed, through its study courses; for special training for special service, through its National Training school in Washington, Kansas City, San Francisco, and elsewhere; for service in Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Southern mountains, western plains, city slums, foreign communities, industrial centers, in hospitals, homes, schools and in all kinds of missions, and for local leadership. Indians Neglected."

"If indeed America holds the moral and religious leadership of the world it behooves the Christian church and the young people, who are responding even now to the demands for heroic service, to remember that half the tribes of North American Indians, born under our flag, have neither church nor missionary."

"There are thousands of foreign people waiting to be led into worthy citizenship. With half the children of Western Washington without even Sunday school privileges, with Protestant services in only 75 of the 600 Arizona towns, with half of the towns of Wyoming churchless, with 4,400 school districts in Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho, which have never heard a minister within an Oregon county with 25,000 people, mostly Americans, without any stated religious services with two million children in the Northwest not enrolled in any Protestant Sunday school with as many more in the Southern states, with three million in New England section."

"The conditions that confront us and the opportunities offered us, the grandest ever granted to a generation of men, challenge us to the utmost devotion, and the sublimest sacrifice and the most heroic effort that it is possible for men to lay at the feet of the King of Kings. This is the appeal that has come to us."

will also do their part. Hugh Strickland, Jim Harmon of Oklahoma, Lloyd Saunders, a Kansan, and Mike Hastings are among those who will participate in the rodeo.

American Aces Ready.
A number of American fliers who made distinguished war records, among them "Eddie" Rickenbacker, are entered for the aviation meet which will be one of the Legion's entertainments. There will be races at the aviation meet, and cash prizes amounting to $10,000 have been provided.

The problem of feeding the visitors, Legion officials believe, will be satisfactorily handled. Of course, they admit, soldiers are always hungry, but street vendors of "hot dogs" and Salvation Army lassies offering "coffee, doughnuts and salvation free" are expected to alleviate that condition. Restaurants will be supervised by a convention committee to prevent possible overcharging.

A "military police" company is planned to aid the local police in maintaining order and handling the crowds, and W. A. Raupp, adjutant general of Missouri, will set up a "military court" to deal with petty difficulties of any sort which may arise among the veterans. The convention committees of the Legion has been advised that local police will not interfere in cases of this sort.

Poultry Show Plans To Start Wednesday At Meeting in City

Leading chicken raisers in Pontotoc county are expected to meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow night at 7:30 when the Pontotoc County Poultry association holds its first session preliminary to staging the annual poultry show here early in January.

The meeting was called by J. F. Weldon, president of the county association, who believes that in case a good attendance is secured at the first meeting, plans for a record exhibit will be under way. Arrangements for a building in which to hold the show together with plans for promoting a more widespread interest in the exhibit are understood to be principal business to be taken up tomorrow night.

All poultry raisers of the city and the county are invited to be present and take part in the discussion. Much of the Pontotoc county exhibit of fowls that won high honors at the state fair will be in the county show. In addition to this some of the Pontotoc birds that were to have been exhibited in the Waco (Texas) Cotton Palace exhibition will be shown.

NINE GAS AND LIGHT COMPANIES ON BLOCK

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Oct. 26.—Nine gas, electric and ice plants in Eastern Oklahoma and several like utilities in Western Arkansas will be disposed of at a receiver's sale at Fort Smith, Ark., on November 18, when the properties of the Commonwealth Public Service company is to be auctioned off.

The plants are to be offered as units or as any one part to satisfy a judgment of $1,081,733 obtained by John J. Murphy of Chicago on notes he holds against the corporation.

The plants located in Oklahoma are at Sallisaw, Vian, Wagoner, Choteau, and Pryor. At Sallisaw, the company owns and operates a natural gas distribution system and an ice plant. At Vian the company has an electric plant and a gas system. The gas system extends from Sallisaw to Upton, via Vian, a distance of 16 miles.

Included in the sale is an electric light system and ice plant at Ashdown, another at Dequeen and a third at Hena, Ark. At Alma, Ark., the company operates a gas system. It also operates a high transmission line which supplied Alma, Ozark, Lamar, Doering, Paris, Dyer, Mulberry, Altus and Alex with electricity.

This line for the past several years has proved an important adjunct to the coal mining industry along the Missouri-Pacific railway between Ozark and Clarksville, as it permitted the mine operators to adopt electricity for power. Approximately 50 miles are supplied by the corporation with current.

The company first embarked in business in Oklahoma and when it branched into Arkansas its headquarters were removed to Fort Smith. A considerable amount of real estate is to be included in the sale.

TALK OF HIGH COST OF MEDICINE

"Although I paid only $2.00 for 2 bottles of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I wouldn't take the $100 for what 2 doses have done for me. My partner also has taken a dose with wonderful results. He was threatened with an operation for stomach and bowel trouble and is sure he will be all right now. We both suffered from indigestion and bloating with gas." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

LANDLORD REQUIRES THAT NATION FLAG FLY ALWAYS

(By the Associated Press)
GUTHRIE, Oct. 26.—The American flag must be kept floating under army regulations over a building recently erected here by Amos A. Ewing, or he will evict his lessees according to the terms under which a lease was given by him recently. His lessee was a former soldier, however, and gladly agreed to the provision.

Veterans of three wars assisted in raising the pole which was of wrought iron. In its base, a letter from President McKinley to Mr.

Ewing, campaign buttons and material of former President Wilson, Senator Harrell and President Harding, have been deposited.

For the Information of the Public.

Because of the general railroad strike threatened by various labor organizations the management of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Lines, has addressed the following statement to its employees.

TO ALL EMPLOYEES:

Uninterrupted transportation service is of paramount importance. Railroad employees and railroad management are alike under obligation to protect the public against interruptions in service. To the end that there be no misunderstanding of the policies of the M. K. & T. Lines, consideration of the following statement is requested:

There will be no reduction in the wages, or changes in the working conditions, of any employees of the M. K. & T. Lines coming under the jurisdiction of the United States Railroad Labor Board, without the approval of that body.

The management of the M. K. & T. Lines has complied with every order or ruling made by the Labor Board since its organization. In the face of a deficit, the M. K. & T. complied with the decision of the Labor Board that wages should be increased approximately 22 percent, effective May 1, 1920, and under this decision the wages of M. K. & T. employees were increased approximately $7,000,000.00 per annum. Despite further deficits in income, the wage rates so established were continued in effect until July 1, 1921, when a reduction of less than 12 percent in wages was authorized by the Labor Board.

As instances have arisen in which the employees and the management were unable to agree as to the interpretation and application of certain rules carried forward from government control, differences have been submitted to the Labor Board and its rulings complied with. There will be no change in this policy. The M. K. & T. Lines will continue to comply with the provisions of the Transportation Act and the rulings of the Labor Board in order that disagreements with employees, which might threaten interruption of transportation service, may be peaceably and fairly adjusted after consideration of every public and private interest.

Support of these policies by M. K. & T. employees is essential to the discharge of the joint obligation of the employees and the management to provide the public with uninterrupted transportation service. We, therefore, urge all patriotic employees to remain at their posts. Duty to the public, loyalty to the government as citizens and their personal and family interest demand that they shall join with the management in reliance upon orderly procedure and legal agencies to make them secure in their rights.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Ada resident's advice. Mrs. Robert Ellis, 210 W. 8th st., gave the following statement on February 28th, 1917: "About a year ago I began to have a great deal of trouble with my back. Just across the small of my back there was a heavy aching that nearly laid me up. This continued with no let-up until I used Doan's Kidney Pills that I bought at Gwin & Mays Drug Store. Doan's gave me relief at once and I now keep them on hand to use should I need them." On May 2, 1921, Mrs. Ellis added, "I haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time. I still remember the benefit I have received from them. They are surely a reliable kidney medicine and I gladly confirm the statement I made in 1917."

Priced 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ellis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

MARKET FOR BROOM CORN RUNS STRONG

(By the Associated Press)
ELK CITY, Oct. 25.—Buying and selling of broom corn since October 1 has been free and the transactions rapid, according to a broom corn report from the Elk City district, made to the U. S. Bureau of markets and crop estimates by C. B. Algure, assistant in marketing hay and broom corn.

The Elk City district includes the territory tributary to Lead, south to Elk City, west to Texola, and also Cheyenne and Strong. The activity, according to Algure, is centered at Erick, Leely and Strong although at nearly all points shipments have been made.

The entire district has been picked over, however, and the brush now available is widely scattered, making it difficult to purchase large blocks of broom corn in any one place, he says. The experience of the past year has determined farmers to plant smaller acreage and care better for what is raised, the report shows.

The quality, according to the report, is more desirable than that of last year, both as to color and fiber. The crop is comparatively free from "red tip" and center stems but is slightly "red in the boot."

Shipments last year from this district amounted to 467 car loads with shipments up to October 19 last year but 46 cars. Recent reports of material reduction in tonnage, under last year, appear to be verified in the survey made last week, Algure believed.

On October 15, shipments had totaled 184 car loads, temporary storage amounted to 62 cars, and the estimated tonnage in the farmers' hand in this district was about 75 tons. Comparison with the same period last year, he said, showed that this year the production will be about 70 per cent of last. The bulk of the corn through the district is bringing $75 to $85 per ton. One car of extra choice brought $120 a ton at Erick.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did. "I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes. At your druggists. NC-142

One-Legged Chaps of City Get Bit Clothes Offering

Is there a one-legged boy of five or six years, in Ada who needs clothes?

Or is there a child of similar age in the city who prefers to brave the winter with only one shoe?

If there are, let them speak up for the Pontotoc county chapter of the American Red Cross can fit them up in a jiffy. Among the piles of old clothes collected by the United Charities and the Red Cross in the recent campaign is a host of little shoes, many of them practically new, without mates. And some thoughtful family sent in a little pair of overalls—minus one leg.

Sorting of the loads of discarded clothing offered to local charities is still going on with Mrs. Orville Snead, Red Cross and United Charities secretary, and a corps of assistants busily engaged. The stimulus given to charity work in the drive several weeks ago is still being felt at Red Cross headquarters where more bundles are being received almost daily. Mrs. Snead says: "Shoes of all kinds, from the aristocratic patent leather or the decorated brogue to the plebeian summer sandal, are stacked up in a great pile at the Red Cross rooms with volunteer sorters working patiently to mate them so they will be available for the use of the city's destitute. This presents perhaps the biggest problem of all in arranging the old clothes for distribution to the poor, according to the secretary.

Kids Get Clothing.
Dozens of pieces of clothing which will go far toward sending relief to many a shivering kiddie or needy mother of the city are being sent out from the Red Cross now. The new collection is one of the most liberal ever received in Ada. Mrs. Snead believes. A profusion of school books which will enable dozens of children of poor families in outlying residence districts of the city to enter school were received. These went to the office of City Superintendent J. E. Hickman to be sorted.

But some of the offerings in the old clothes drives, though given with good grace, are not quite so valuable for winter relief. Several lace hats, apparently little used, came in with the bundles and one society woman was kind enough to send a fancy pair of lightweight gloves, scarcely thick enough to turn the summer breeze.

It all comes in the old clothes bag, Mrs. Snead says, and however humble, indicates a good spirit on the part of the community.

AMERICAN BUSINESS AFTER EGYPT TRADE

(By the Associated Press)
CAIRO, Oct. 25.—American business men in Egypt are fighting to retain the trade between America and Egypt which was developed during the war when the nations of Europe were too busy to attend to their foreign trade. This war-time trade gave American exporters a foothold, but since the war European competition has been resumed.

The establishment of an agency in Egypt of the United States Shipping Board, followed closely by the opening of branches of the American Express Company, has stimulated and encouraged the American colony here. Individual Americans have created local American firms in association with Egyptian business men to promote trade between America and Egypt and have created the organization necessary to handle the interests of American manufacturers and shippers.

The recently organized American Chamber of Commerce is exerting every effort to assist American business interests to meet the keen European competition and to maintain the enviable position secured during the past few years.

Prior to 1914, the United States was commercially a small factor in Egypt's trade. During the war when America was cut off from the manufacturing centers of Central Europe and the Egyptian importer turned to America and Japan. American goods flowed into Egypt and the buying public became familiar with American products. This marked the first step in the development of America's trade with Egypt.

War prices for cotton greatly enriched the country and America benefited by the increased importations of luxuries, especially of automobiles and by a good business in wheat and flour.

The enormous increase in business compelled the American tire manufacturers to buy large quantities of the long staple Egyptian cotton imported in 1919-1920, over 250,000 bales. The English coal strikes brought big coal contracts to America. Thus in a few years America was ushered in as the opportunist to play an important role in Egyptian trade.

By 1919, American exporters realized somewhat the importance of the Egyptian market, and some export houses established branches in Alexandria and Cairo. Inexperience and the world crisis combined to defeat these attempts of the American exporters in many cases, but interest has been aroused and American trade is active in keeping its foothold.

Do not neglect the warnings of nature. If your appetite is poor, breath bad, tongue coated, you will be sick unless you take steps to put your system in good condition. Picky Ash Bitters is the remedy you need. It purifies the bowels, strengthens digestion and regulates the liver. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by Gwin and Maya Drug Co. (adv)

SHE HAD SUFFERED SINCE A LITTLE GIRL

"I just can't find words to express my gratitude for what Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. Leland Clark, 112 West Fourteenth st., Oklahoma City.

"When I was eight years old I had a severe attack of diphtheria and up to the time that Tanlac brought me relief, I was run down, weak and nervous. For the past year or two my food seemed to do me little or no good, I slept very poorly and had scarcely any vitality or energy. "My whole system seemed to yield to Tanlac, and the first week I took it, my complexion began to clear up and I could see that my blood was getting richer by the improvement in my color. I sleep well now, my nerves are getting strong and I am just now beginning to know what it is to enjoy life. Tanlac is certainly wonderful."

Tanlac is sold by M. A. Waitz and all leading druggists. (adv)

COSTLY GRILL AT MUSKOGEE PASSED OFF IN SPLENDOR

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 26.—Memories of Muskogee's playhouse of years gone by, the Wauhatchie Grill, are being recalled by old time Muskogee citizens by a large excavation which is being made near a corner of Third and Wall streets.

The Wauhatchie Grill was established during the boom days of Muskogee. At that time, it was dedicated to be the most elaborate eating house in the southwest. It cost nearly $200,000, and achieved a name throughout the United States. The house was divided into three compartments, the Italian room, the French room and the English room, in addition to the main dining room. It was a losing venture from the start. The first operators of the establishment lost $10,000 a month for 22 consecutive months because their overhead expenses multiplied, before they could dispose of the place. The second operator found it a losing venture also, and suspended business. The Wauhatchie was never revived.

What recalls it to the public now is the tunnel which pierces Wall street. Food for the Wauhatchie's guests was cooked on one side of the street and transported to the doors of the dining room by a small railway to the other side of the street. The tunnel was walled in with cement, the roof being three feet thick.

The top now is being torn off to make room for a gigantic steel tank which will house fuel oil to be used by the building which now occupies the former site of the Wauhatchie kitchen. Old time Muskogeeans these days delight to tell of the gay parties which were staged at the Wauhatchie when oil was discovered in Muskogee. They also tell of the celebrities who were permitted to write their names on the rich paintings which adorned its walls. Many of these paintings now adorn the walls of exclusive Muskogee homes, while other costly furnishings of the old hotel it is said, can be found in many places.

CANADIAN ROCKIES RESORT KEEPS OPEN HOUSE ALL YEAR

CLIMBING WITH A SWISS GUIDE

Banff, the Beautiful, is rapidly becoming an all-the-year-round resort. The summer months during which its palatial hotels are open, will always be the leading season, with Winter Carnival weeks as second, but the balance of the year sees an ever-increasing number of travelers detouring at the picturesque log station that blocks the town's clean, wide Main street.

Autumn among the mountains that encircle Banff, is a season of pure joy. There is a tang in the air and the hoary giants wear their cloaks of mist more frequently, but the crisp coolness invites to more strenuous exercise in the open. The trails call—trails that are dry and from warm-weather insect life. Ponies and motors are available for long trips and with the smaller number of visitors there is no likelihood of a shortage of either.

One meets fewer people along the trails and motor roads; one may linger hours long at some vantage point, feasting on a magnificent panorama, without being annoyed by chattering tourists.

When the snow falls, a trip to Lake Louise on skis or snowshoes permits a tete-a-tete with the Pearl of the Rockies. Swiss guides are available if climbing is desired.

With the departure of the throngs of summer guests, the wild game which is protected in Rocky Mt. Park in which Banff is located, becomes more venturesome and it is a common sight to see deer grazing along Main street.

The Government swimming pools

are open all winter and late visitors enjoy the novel experience of spashing in open-air, glass-enclosed pools of warm water from Nature's own hot kettle, while on-lookers are wrapped in furs.

There is always plenty of hotel accommodation at Banff and travelers will find a between-seasons stop at Banff a pleasant interlude on trans-continental journeys. This is particularly true during Winter Carnival days when merriment and healthful sport fill every waking hour.

What They Say

Boost C. of C.

I read with interest and profit your editorial in yesterday's Evening News with reference to the Chamber of Commerce and the prospects for the future. I am sure that all those who have worked and contributed to the club appreciated that article. I wonder, though, how it appeared to the over one hundred and forty business and professional men who are not contributors to that organization.

Permit me to call the attention of these non-contributors to the following. As soon as financial conditions permit, manufacturing interests are going to make new locations. Even now they are looking out the desirable places to establish themselves. Changes can not be made at this time because the money necessary for the establishment of new businesses is not available, neither is there a market, but as soon as readjustments are made there will be a number of desirable concerns looking for just such a place as Ada in which to locate.

There are numberless towns with advantages, trying to sell themselves to the manufacturing public, these towns have their representatives putting forward advantages and possibilities of the community. This is backed up by letters, literature and personal contact all of which is paid for by the contributors to the Commercial Clubs of the various towns. The competition is as keen for the location of a new factory as it is for the sale of the product of that factory. Of course this is self evident to many, but I set it out in detail for the benefit of those who can not see why they should support the club.

When a new industry is located here who gets the business? Is not the non-contributor on hand to sell his wares or his services to the newcomers? Every one of these one hundred and forty is "sweating the game." They are all there in the market place looking for the new dollars that have come to town and ready to get some patronage. They do not get some patronage. They are even nervous enough to "leak out" the club and its officers because a business has located which is a competitor as though a town could grow without bringing in competition. If some of these new men are contributors they are sorer still.

Of course there will be found among the men of any town a certain proportion of drones, grouches and dead heads but there are not as many as indicated above in Ada. I am sure they do not understand. A few more editorials like yours and a little more missionary work by the club solicitors will do the business.

Very truly yours,
O. N. WALKER.

GRAVELING WORK ON N. BROADWAY OPEN THIS WEEK

Work was started this week on improving North Broadway from the north end of the paving to Rosedale cemetery and the fair grounds. One of the main jobs to be considered on the improvement is the construction of a concrete bridge on the creek running through Dark Town. This crossing for the past few years has been a dangerous place, according to Walter Smith, city commissioner of public works and property.

A crew of men will be kept at work on this project until the bridge has been completed, after which the work of grading the street will commence. Mr. Smith plans to fill in the low places at the location of the bridge, cut down the hill on the north side and make the street more passable, especially since a large amount of traffic passes there.

He also plans to improve the double street leading to the Fair Grounds and to grade the road to the cemetery by way of the North Broadway route. This will be the first work of any volume to be done on the fair grounds road in recent months. The railroad companies will be asked to improve the crossings on North Broadway, and it is probable that some gravel may be put down.

INJURED ELECTRICIAN IS RECOVERING NOW

Jim Fount Le Roy, who was injured Monday by a live wire at the corner of Ninth and Turner, is reported to be doing very well today. His hands are badly burned, the flesh being taken off to the bone in a place or two.

When the accident occurred, Jim was at the top of a pole. When the current hit him, he dropped, a silver on the pole several feet below stopping the fall. He says he felt his heart stop, but is resumed operations when the sudden stop set it in action.

In The Oil Fields

"P. S. Case, active vice president of the M. and P. National Bank at Ada, is here attending federal court as a juror. Mr. Case is of the opinion that bankers should be exempt from jury service especially during the fall, but he does not know whether he can lead the court to the same opinion or not. In speaking of his city, Mr. Case says prospects for a new oil pool are good, that the Nance well, located about five miles from the town is good for at least 100 barrels and many people there believe it is good for a better production than that."

BANK CASES WILL BE HELD ON NOV. 2

Delay of Preliminary Trials
Follow Confession of Arthur Gotcher.

Following the announcement Tuesday that Arthur Gotcher, one of the seven persons held in connection with the robbery of the Farmers State Bank at Fitzhugh recently, had made a full confession of his part in the hold-up, Justice of the Peace W. H. Fisher announced this morning that preliminary of all persons held, scheduled for today, have been postponed until November 2.

Request for the continuance is understood to have come from the state. In the meantime Gotcher with Charles Thompson, another confessed participant in the robbery, are being held in the county jail. Gotcher is scheduled to come before District Judge J. W. Bolen Saturday morning for sentence. Thompson is listed as one of the state's leading witnesses against the five others now being held. Three of the others, all women, are on bond. Ed Stewart and Claude Castleberry were remanded to the county jail by order of Judge Bolen yesterday until they have made $10,000 bond, twice the amount set in their habeas corpus hearing in the district court recently.

Although it is well understood that Gotcher has made a complete statement of the robbery, it will not be given out until he comes up for sentence Saturday, court officials announced.

Statements of Thompson, who was arrested at Okmulgee, and of public, are expected to reveal the location of part of the $1,800 in cash taken by two unmasked men who forced Cashier J. R. Basleton into the Fitzhugh bank vault and locked it. This was on the afternoon of Friday, September 30. For many days efforts of officers to locate the missing money were in vain.

Stewart, alleged to have been an accomplice with Gotcher and Castleberry in the robbery, was convicted in the district court last Saturday on a charge of grand larceny and is scheduled to be sentenced by Judge Bolen Saturday.

Interpreter Helped Judge Brown Marry First Couple

Something like 18 years ago, in a small unfurnished office, Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown, who since statehood has held this office in Pontotoc county, said his first marriage ceremony. The only furnishings of the office, then located in the old court house which is now no more, were a few chairs and two small tables. Justice Brown himself was much younger then and now looks back with considerable pleasure on his earlier tasks as first assistant to Cupid.

On November 16 Mr. Brown took the oath of office and at once proceeded to open one of the two first Justice offices in this county. A few days later he was given his opportunity to perform the marriage ceremony for the first time. The bride couple were full blood Indians, neither understanding a word of English. Bob Cummings acted as interpreter and the ceremony was slowly carried out. Elijah Brown and Adeline Jackson were the two being married. Both lived at Allen Oklahoma.

Marriages in this early stage of the state's history, though not so numerous as now, came fast enough to give each of the many officials with the authority to perform the ceremony plenty of practice. The first couple to get licenses here under the Oklahoma law were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Spain. Mrs. Spain's maiden name was Wilma Wimbish. He resided at Hower, Texas, and she at Stonewall, Okla., at that time. The ceremony was performed by E. H. Mosely of Coalgate.

The first twelve people to get licenses were married by as many officials, ministers, judges and justices of the peace being included. Books of the court clerk's office were opened in November and before the year 1907 had expired more than 30 licenses had been issued. Judge Brown stated that some weeks would bring two or three couples to his office to get married, then again he would not get a couple to marry for several weeks. The books numbered 1 in other divisions of the court clerk's office also contain interesting facts about the early days. For instance the divorce courts did little business for the first few months and at no time during the first year were many applications made. People as a rule looked on the divorce court in a different manner than they do now, according to those who served in the early day courts.

LYCEUM PROGRAM FOR NORMAL OPENS SOON

The East Central Teachers' College has arranged a lyceum course of four numbers for the students and the citizens of the city this fall and winter. The numbers are strong and range from opera to an address by one of the best known men in America. The program will start with an entertainment given by the Great Lakes String Quartet.

The founding of this organization and its interesting history has caused considerable comment in the musical press of the country and in the committees visited during its tours. The four young men, who compose the Quartet, finding themselves placed in the same company and regiment upon their enlistment in the navy (at the Great Lakes) did not take long to discover each other and within a short period Chamber music resounded throughout the barracks of the training camp during the rest hours.

The work of the organization quite naturally aroused military and naval interest and a first recital was arranged at Northwestern University. Following a long list of engagements their success finally
